

A MESSAGE FROM GIANT BICYCLES

MAY 2013

GIANT'S RESPONSE TO DW-LINK LAWSUIT

To our valued Giant retailers,

Earlier this week, several consumer cycling Web sites reported on the patent infringement litigation between dw-link/Dave Weagle and Giant involving the Maestro Suspension design. Below is Giant's official response to this matter:

Giant vigorously disputes and intends to aggressively defend against the patent infringement allegations contained in the lawsuit recently filed by dw-link. Maestro Suspension is a Giant proprietary design, and our retailers can continue to sell Maestro-equipped mountain bikes with confidence.

Giant will continue to focus on developing world-leading technologies to help you grow your business and provide a superior cycling experience for riders worldwide.

We greatly appreciate your support and business.

GIANT RETAILER SUPPORT

GIANT BICYCLES

LIV / GIANT

G-STORE

GIANT RETAIL ACADEMY

SOCIALIZE WITH US

