

Herb Bool, a middle school science teacher at San Francisco Day School will be racing to raise funds to build a community-based school in remote mountain regions of Central Asia. $50,000 will build a school and endow it for five years, providing resources and teachers until the school can become self-sustaining. The Central Asian Institute will officially manage the project. As of 2007, CAI has successfully established 58 schools in Pakistan and Afghanistan. These schools provide education to over 24,000 students with a emphasis on girls' education. Your generous donation will help to promote education and literacy in one of the poorest regions of the world. This fund raiser will include a 24 hour bicycle race in Southern Arizona on Saturday, February 16th, 2008. Herb will be racing a single speed bike in the "solo" class, and will be racing for 24 hours. Last year's single speed, solo, professional male rider completed nearly 240 miles.
