

IMPORTANT SAFETY RECALL NOTICE

PIRELLI TIRE RECALLS P ZERO RACE TLR BICYCLE TIRES DUE TO FALL HAZARD

The affected tires are in size 28-622 and were produced between the tenth week of 2023 and the 24th week of 2023

New York (USA), 7 September 2023 - To ensure the maximum safety of our clients, Pirelli announces that it is carrying out a voluntary recall in coordination with CPSC of certain bicycle tires in the P Zero Race TLR of the size 28-622 which were produced between the tenth week of 2023 and the 24th week of 2023.

The recall refers to certain problems of compatibility of the tire with some wheel rims where under some conditions during bicycle tire fitting or in service, including cases where tire inflation pressure may exceed the maximum pressure allowed by the rim manufacturer, bead unseating and consequently rapid air loss in the tires may occur resulting in potential loss of bicycle control and posing a fall hazard.

Consumers should stop using the product immediately and contact Pirelli with any questions. Consumers are eligible to receive either a full refund or a replacement tire.

Model Name/Number, Tire ID, and Production Date Code must be checked: if your tire has the same model name/number and Tire ID listed in the chart below and a production date code between “1023” to “2423” (which includes 1123, 1223, 1323, etc.), then your tire is subject to this recall.

The tires involved in the recall are the following:
